

MENU

What's New at ISCP

Honorary Member Profile: Paul Teng

Industry Notes

Upcoming Events

CORPORATE MEMBERS

What's New at ISCP

ISCP Board Meeting at TRB

The annual combined membership and board of directors meeting was held on January 20 at the Marriott Hotel in Washington, DC, USA. Nearly 50 members of the Society were present. Highlights of the meeting include:

- A discussion of the need for newsletter article submissions from ISCP members. These can be research news, industry news, thesis abstracts, event announcements, etc. All submittals should be sent electronically to: newsletter@concretepavements.org

- Volunteers are needed to provide translations of the newsletter and website into languages other than English.

- A budget and plans were presented (and approved) for the August 2007 ISCP Strategic Planning Meeting and Conference to be held in Johannesburg, South Africa.

- Plans were presented for a pre-conference workshop on Fundamental Modeling of Concrete Pavements, to be held in advance of the 9th International Conference.

- New honorary members Hermann Sommer (Austria) and Shiraz Tayabji (US) were inducted.

- The Society operating budget for 2007 was reviewed and approved.

More details on these highlights and other meeting details are available in the meeting minutes, which are posted on the ISCP website at www.concretepavements.org.

President Dan Zollinger presents Shiraz Tayabji his Honorary Membership plaque

Honorary members Mike Darter and Hermann Sommer after the meeting

After the meeting, Juan Pablo Covarrubias led a brief roundtable discussion of concrete pavement curling and warping issues. An optional group dinner was held later at a local restaurant.

9th International Conference, Call for Papers Announced

The Announcement and Call for Papers for the 9th International Conference on Concrete Pavements is now available! The theme of the Conference, which will be held at in San Francisco, California, USA on August 10-14, 2008, is "The Golden Gate to Tomorrow's Concrete Pavements." Abstracts or "letters of intent" are due by September 4, 2007, with complete papers due for review by February 1, 2008.